-Prologue-

It was an amazing day. Leafie (SpottedLeaf.) was out in the garden. Suddenly she heard a yowl coming from the forest. She jumped out of her fur, "Did you hear that?" Asked Leafie, turning to Jay. (Obviously, JayFeather.) But, surprisingly, he wasn't out in his garden. Strange. Thought the young KittyPet. She thought of an idea, but wasn't quite sure. Maybe I should go check it out! But..what if I get hurt? Nah, I'm sure I could make through it! Just for a little time. Both sides of her were arguing, but finally agreed to go into the forest. So she made sure no one was looking, and went into the forest. So off she went.

And that's when her life began to change.

Part 1.

It was amazing in the forest, all the trees, nature, cats- wait cats? Suddenly she was pushed to the ground, "You! What are you doing on ThunderClan territory?" A cat had asked. She didn't get to have a look at the cat. "I-I'm s-sorry! I didn't know I had walked on another's territory! I-I was just, having a walk in the forest!" She replied shaking.
"Hmm..a kittypet? I see. Follow me." The cat said. Leafie was confused. But did not question. Suddenly she met another cat, with blue eyes, grey fur. Next to a slightly smaller cat, with orange fur and green eyes. "Who is this? A kittypet? Don't we have enough cats in this clan? But, if you want to keep her, then of course. I will not want to harm this kittypet in anyway. FireHeart, take the kittypet to the medicine den and explain what happens around here." The grey fur one said. "Also, I am BlueStar. Leader of this clan. This, is FireHeart. Our medicine cat." 'BlueStar' added. FireHeart took Leafie to the medicine cat den.
"Okay, so as you may know I am FireHeart! I am a medicine cat here. I take care of injured cats with herbs. I will show you around here." FireHeart said, cheerfully to the young kittypet. FireHeart had led Leafie to the Warriors den. "This is the Warrior Cat's den. This is where Warrior cats stay. You may ask, what Are Warrior Cats?' Well, warrior cats are the ones who capture prey and go into battles with other clans. " FireHeart said. Leafie's eyes sparkled, amazed by how Warrior Cat's can fight. I hope I become one of those! She thought. Finally, they met some of the apprentices. "These are Apprentices. The ones training to become warriors. I think you may become one." FireHeart said, smiling at the kittypet.

Part 2.

"Gather round!" BlueStar said. Leafie was behind her. Warriors, the medicine cats and apprentices gathered round. They looked confused. Are we in trouble? Did some of us do something bad? Of course none of them saw Leafie. "I have gathered you round to tell you we have another cat," some whispers we're going round by now. Some of them were 'don't we have enough cats?' Some of them were 'ugh, really?' "This is Leafie, a kittypet. But, she will now be known as SpottedPaw," she turned around to SpottedPaw. "Congratulations, you are now an apprentice. Welcome to ThunderClan." BlueStar said, smiling at SpottedPaw. Some of them, especially FireHeart were cheering, 'SpottedPaw! SpottedPaw!' After FireHeart said that, he quickly went back to the medicine cat den. Suddenly, she saw grey fur. And blue blind eyes. Jay! She thought, going up to him. "Huh, Leafie?" He looked surprised. "Yeah, you dummy! Why did you run of into the forest? And also, it's SpottedPaw now." She said pridefully. Jay laughed.
"Well, I'm not jay anymore. I'm JayPaw." He said to her. Suddenly she heard someone calling her. "SpottedPaw!" It was RavenWing, the one helping her to become a warrior. (Yeah, I added RavenWing.)
"Oh, I'm coming! Cya, JayPaw!" SpottedPaw said, cheerfully.

What she didn't know was that JayPaw was in a different clan.

Part 3.

SpottedPaw trotted over to RavenWing. She hadn't seen FireHeart in a few days. Maybe I could go see him? "Hey, could I go see Fire-" She was cut off,
"No, sorry, FireHeart's a little busy," RavenWing said to the young apprentice.
"Oh, okay." She replied. So they started training,

"Okay, so now like this." RavenWing instructed. Getting into a pounce position. "I think you'll make a fine warrior! Plus be one fast!" RavenWing told SpottedPaw.
"We're under attack!" Someone shouted, getting everyone's attention.

Part 4.

Suddenly, she saw more cats come on the entrance of ThunderClan. The only thing, she saw...JayPaw with them. "JayPaw...?" She asked, but not wanting an answer. The Apprentice spotted the more younger Apprentice. Was..he spying on ThunderClan when I saw him..? She thought, a bit scared and confused. (Also, pretend JayFeather wasn't ThunderClan's med once) .

-.FireHeart's Point Of View.-

I sat in the medicine den, watching the two clans speak. I saw SpottedPaw confused, and slightly scared. I saw JayPaw and saw her looking at him. Hold on a moment. I swear I saw him by our camp, talking to SpottedPaw.. I thought. Could he be spying? He must've been trying to get information! Just then my thoughts were cut off hearing a loud battle cry noise. I saw the two clans begin to battle. I watched, as a result, a large cat that was from my clan. I recognised them all most straight away.
